A SUMMERS REST

As the weather is starting to improve [hopefully], we can all start to look forward to long restful days in the sun. June is the time that we can start to look forward spending more time with family and friends. Our plans can include spending time in the garden, taking the kids to the park, going out for the day or going away on holiday. Whatever our plans are for the summer months, spending time with friends and family can be really relaxing and restful. In reality the summer months can be far from relaxing. For some getting together with family and friends can be far from relaxing. For others just the thought of the long six week break from school will bring its own worries and stress. Even going away on holiday can cause stress and arguments between both adults and kids.

There is no getting away from the fact that the long, warm summer days can be far from restful and stress free. Just because the weather is good does not change our normal everyday problems and the worry and stress they bring us. Problems like living on a low income, juggling child care, work and family time or dealing with chronic illness do not just disappear because the weather is nice. So how can we find a way to relax and avoid stress during the months to come?

The answer is simple Jesus said "Peace I leave with you, my peace I give you. I do not give to you as the world gives. Do not let your hearts be troubled and do not be afraid." John 14:27

Jesus does not promise us a stress or trouble free life but what He does promise is an inner peace that can survive the greatest trials of life.

And the most amazing thing is His peace is there waiting for you, all you have to do is ask for it.
